Galatians 2:20*

Natasha experienced the transformative love and power of Christ during graduate school for Counselling Psychology. Through her own healing journey in the Lord, she integrates biblical truths and the power of Christ with psychological skills and techniques. Her heart is to see the church come to full maturity in Christ through complete surrender to His authority. Natasha has served in her local church for over ten years, leading youth, teaching, and serving in the ministry of inner healing alongside her pastors

She has been with Adeara for eight years in various capacities and currently serves as Clinical Director, overseeing the Recovery Programs, staff training, and supervision of the Clinical Team. She is a Registered Psychologist and has a private practice in the community treating clients with complex trauma and dissociative disorders.

"I have been crucified with Christ and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me. The life I now live in the body, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me."

~Galatians 2:20 NIV

Lori is passionate about seeing women pursue their full potential as they experience freedom in Christ and in their recovery journey. Seeing women discover their value, walk confidently in who they are becoming in Christ, and live freely without the burden of sin and shame is what fuels her. Lori has four daughters, three sons-in-law, and six grandchildren, and she has been married for 34 years. For three decades, she served in the local church alongside her husband. She currently serves as Executive Director at Adeara Recovery Center. Being part of gatherings where women are equipped, empowered, and encouraged in their journey with Jesus is always a privilege.
